FULL MOON DOWN

What do they want? They can't do nothin' with this thing at all.

They do not want the transformer, they want our scalp.

My name is Clark.

To be precise, Specialist Clark
Kingston. And this is the USS Nomad.

Damn!

Sir! Massive enemy
contact. I repeat, Red
One is pursued by multiple creatures. Recommend massive counterattack.
Clark out.

Clark, I got it!
Move to the rally point! Blue
One, Green One and Yellow
Two will move out.
Command post over.

The USS Nomad hasn't always been this crooked.

There was a time when it was the pride of the US Navy.

But then the moon came.

It took our water and it took countless comrades.

Discipline and obedience saved us back then.

And they will lead
us back to our old strenght.

The parents' sacrifices for their children will not be forgotten!

The old lady's radioactive heart is still beating and we have electricity.

We have weapons and ammunition.

We're building a runway...

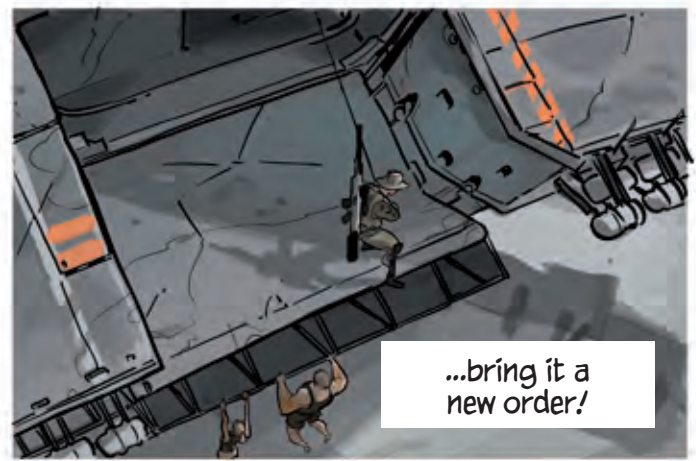

...and soon our jets will be flying again.

But above all, we have one thing: the will to live!

We will watch over the new world...

...bring it a new order!
